

URGENT SAFETY RECALL

HELP SAVE LIVES BY FINDING THESE VEHICLES

THE SITUATION

Thousands of Hondas and Acuras in South Florida are being recalled because of defective airbag inflators. Even a minor fender bender can cause these airbag inflators to rupture, spraying metal shrapnel into drivers and passengers. At least 11 people have been killed, including one Floridian. Approximately 180 Americans have suffered serious injuries, including cuts or lacerations to the face or neck, broken or fractured facial bones, loss of eyesight and broken teeth.

We need your help to find these vehicles, and get them off the road and repaired immediately.

Nearly 70 million Takata airbag inflators, in approximately 42 million vehicles, are or will be under recall in the United States by 2019. While the recall includes vehicles made by 19 automakers, the Hondas and Acuras pictured below pose the most urgent threat — with up to a 50% chance of rupture upon deployment. These vehicles are unsafe to drive for any reason.
